

Presentation

Thursday 12 November 2015, by A. Chines

AKIN-PRO in an engineering design office doing CAD 3D-realizations of special machines, integrated solutions to existent systems, product reviews.

Active in the aerospace, locomotive and manufacture industries, with a lot of reactivity and the know-how acquired in over 20 years, AKIN-PRO may help customers implement projects following procedural specifications, assist and/or extend the idea to the project and from the project to its implementation.

Special machines and specific tools for handling (hoisting, conveying, moving); for automated or manual welding, spot, continuously or projection; grippers for precise positioning, glue spread, automatic welding with fixed guns; modification or enhancement of existing fixtures and tools; realisation of details and equipment plans; development of new products ... and so on

